

October 1 & 2, 2010

Integrating the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning into Academic Culture

A working conference at Maryville University in St. Louis

This year, we invite you to explore with colleagues two new and challenging themes:

- 1) Increasing our understanding of student learning in the disciplines we teach.
- 2) Engaging students as research partners in our quest to enhance teaching and learning.
- 3) Exploring alternatives, big ideas and challenging issues (ABC).

KEYNOTE EVENTS

Tony Ciccone

Tony is the past Director of the Carnegie Academy for the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning (CASTL Program). He is also Professor of French and Director of the Center for Instructional and Professional Development at University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee.

Carmen Werder & five students engaged in SoTL with their professors

Carmen is the co-editor of Engaging Student Voices in the Study of Teaching and Learning (Stylus, 2010). She is also Director of the Teaching and Learning Academy and Director of Writing Instruction Support at Western Washington University.

Something new!

Preconference Workshop and Lunch, Friday, October 1, 2010, 10:00am – Noon

If the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning is a relatively new concept for you, consider attending a preconference workshop led by Maryville's SoTL Seminar Facilitator, Marilyn Cohn, and Co-facilitator Michael Kiener. This introduction to the basic goals and methods of SoTL will prepare you to enjoy and more fully participate in conference activities.

REGISTRATION

General Registration Fee: $300

Discounts for groups from same institution

Preconference workshop & lunch: $30

Student registration: $80

CONTACT INFORMATION

Call: Tammy Gocial at 314 529 6893

Email: sotlconference2010@maryville.edu

IMPORTANT DATES

March 1

Call for proposals published

May 15

Submission deadline for proposals

June 15

Notification of acceptance

August 30

General registration deadline

Visit: www.maryville.edu/about-excellence-ctl-conference.htm