Red and white tassels identify undergraduate candidates. Black tassels are worn generally by graduate degree candidates; holders of the doctoral degree may wear gold tassels. Graduates with honor society affiliations wear the appropriate cords or designations of the individual group as part of the academic regalia.

GONFALONS

Signaling the presence of the academic units of Maryville University are gonfalons, flags with color emblematic of each school. At Maryville, the gonfalon of the College of Arts and Sciences is bordered in white and yellow gold; the Myrtle E. and Earl E. Walker College of Health Professions in sage green; John E. Simon School of Business in drab; and the School of Education in blue. The gonfalons are carried by a faculty member from each school.

THE MACE

The Mace had its origins as a warrior’s weapon and later evolved into a symbol of authority. The Maryville Mace connects the University to the long tradition of universities from their founding in the Middle Ages into the future. The oak leaves were collected from trees on campus and were painted pure silver. The shaft, which symbolizes a tree trunk, is treated with a Japanese smoked patina. The Mace celebrates the history and the rich diversity that is life and is carried by the Grand Marshal.
Senator Bill Bradley is a managing director of Allen & Company LLC. From 2001 - 2004, he acted as chief outside advisor to McKinsey & Company’s nonprofit practice. He was a senior advisor and vice chairman of the International Council of JP Morgan & Co., Inc. from 1997 - 1999. During that time, he also worked as an essayist for CBS Evening News and was a visiting professor at Stanford University, University of Notre Dame and the University of Maryland.

Bradley served in the United States Senate from 1979 - 1997, representing the state of New Jersey. In 2000, he was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President of the United States. He is one of the foremost political and cultural leaders of our time and gained prominence in the Senate as a bipartisan leader who brought people together to solve complex problems. Always placing the best interests of the nation first, Bradley garnered respect on both sides of the aisle as a man of unquestionable character.

Prior to serving in the Senate, he was an Olympic gold medalist in 1964 and a professional basketball player with the New York Knicks from 1967 - 1977, during which time they won two NBA championships. In 1982, he was elected to the Basketball Hall of Fame.

Bradley has authored seven books on American politics, culture and economy, including his latest book, We Can All Do Better. Currently he hosts “American Voices,” a weekly show on Sirius SM Satellite Radio that highlights the remarkable accomplishments of Americans both famous and unknown.

Born in Crystal City, Missouri, Bradley became one of the region’s most celebrated basketball players at Crystal City High School. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in American History from Princeton University and a Master of Arts degree from Oxford University where he was a Rhodes Scholar.
