Red and white tassels identify undergraduate candidates. Black tassels are worn generally by graduate degree candidates; holders of the doctoral degree may wear gold tassels. Graduates with honor society affiliations wear the appropriate cords or designations of the individual group as part of the academic regalia.

GONFALONS

Signaling the presence of the academic units of Maryville University are gonfalons, flags with color emblematic of each school. At Maryville, the gonfalon of the College of Arts and Sciences is bordered in white and yellow gold; the Myrtle E. and Earl E. Walker College of Health Professions in sage green; John E. Simon School of Business in drab; and the School of Education in blue. The Gonfalons are carried by a faculty member from each school.

THE MACE

The Mace had its origins as a warrior's weapon and later evolved into a symbol of authority. The Maryville Mace connects the University to the long tradition of universities from their founding in the Middle Ages into the future. The oak leaves were collected from trees on campus and were painted pure silver. The shaft, which symbolizes a tree trunk, is treated with a Japanese smoked patina. The Mace celebrates the history and the rich diversity that is life and is carried by the Grand Marshal.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

BOB WOODWARD

Associate Editor, The Washington Post

Bob Woodward, legendary Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist and author, is an associate editor of The Washington Post, where he has worked since 1971.

Consistently revealing the inside, hidden stories of Washington D.C. and the American Presidency—from Watergate to the Supreme Court, the CIA to the Pentagon, the 9/11 terrorist attacks to the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan, Woodward is a two-time Pulitzer Prize winner and The Washington Post associate editor who has earned iconic status in American journalistic heritage. Having written books on eight of the last presidents, from Nixon to Obama, and currently working on a book about President Trump, Woodward is uniquely situated to examine key questions about the American presidency.

Woodward has authored or coauthored 18 national best-selling non-fiction books, 12 have been #1 national bestsellers. He has more #1 national non-fiction bestsellers than any other contemporary author. In listing the all-time 100 best non-fiction books, Time magazine has called All the President's Men, by Woodward and Carl Bernstein, "Perhaps the most influential piece of journalism in history."

His most recent book, The Last of the President's Men, provides the last pieces of the Nixon puzzle and is based on 46 hours of interviews with President Nixon's aide who revealed the secret tapes.

Bob Schieffer of CBS News has said, "Woodward has established himself as the best reporter of our time. He may be the best reporter of all time."

Gene Roberts, the former managing editor of The New York Times, has called Woodward and Bernstein's Watergate coverage "maybe the single greatest reporting effort of all time."

Fred Barnes, executive editor of The Weekly Standard, has said Woodward "is the best pure reporter of his generation, perhaps ever."
